THE MAKING OF A SONG & DANCE CONTEST

The making of a Song and Dance Contest demands lots of time and a tremendous team effort. Since August, all middle and high school girls have been working on recreating mythological tales: everything from choosing one, distributing the roles, shortening them to fit the eight-minute mark, choreographing the dances, and modifying the songs. It has all been an exhausting but rewarding experience. All teams had to go through a preliminary selection in which only five teams were chosen to continue the process; these groups had to design costumes, choose backdrops, and record their songs, not to mention increase rehearsal time. Today, you will witness the final products of these outstanding groups. Welcome to the Song and Dance Contest 2019: Rise to Olympus!
