

EMPOWERED
MINDS, COMPASSIONATE
HEARTS

ECHOES OF THE PROPHECY

SONG & DANCE CONTEST 25-26

ECHOES OF THE PROPHECY

SONG & DANCE CONTEST 25-26

The Song and Dance Contest is the opportunity for Marymount School to amaze the audience with its creativity and passion for the performing arts. In the 2025 - 2026 edition, we invite you to step into the sacred Temple of Apollo, where music, dance, and divine visions join together to create an amazing story. This amazing performance will transport spectators to Ancient Greece, where gods and mortals exist simultaneously, secrets are revealed, and prophecies come alive through the power of dance, songs, and acting. Daphne, a young woman chosen as the new Pythia, receives a prophecy that involves everyone in the Olympus. A prophecy ensues: one of the gods will betray Apollo. The truth will be uncovered through six powerful visions that will reveal the reasons behind the betrayal as Artemis, Poseidon, Eros, Ares, and Aphrodite are all suspects. Each scene will express their desires, jealousies, and ambitions, connecting with the audience and making them feel part of a world of mystery, beauty, and divine conflict.

Tonight, we invite you to witness Apollo's journey through denial, and self-discovery as he confronts the painful reality of betrayal and faces the echoes of a prophecy that can change his story forever. Step into the Temple of Apollo, where destiny awaits and the truth behind the betrayal will finally be revealed.

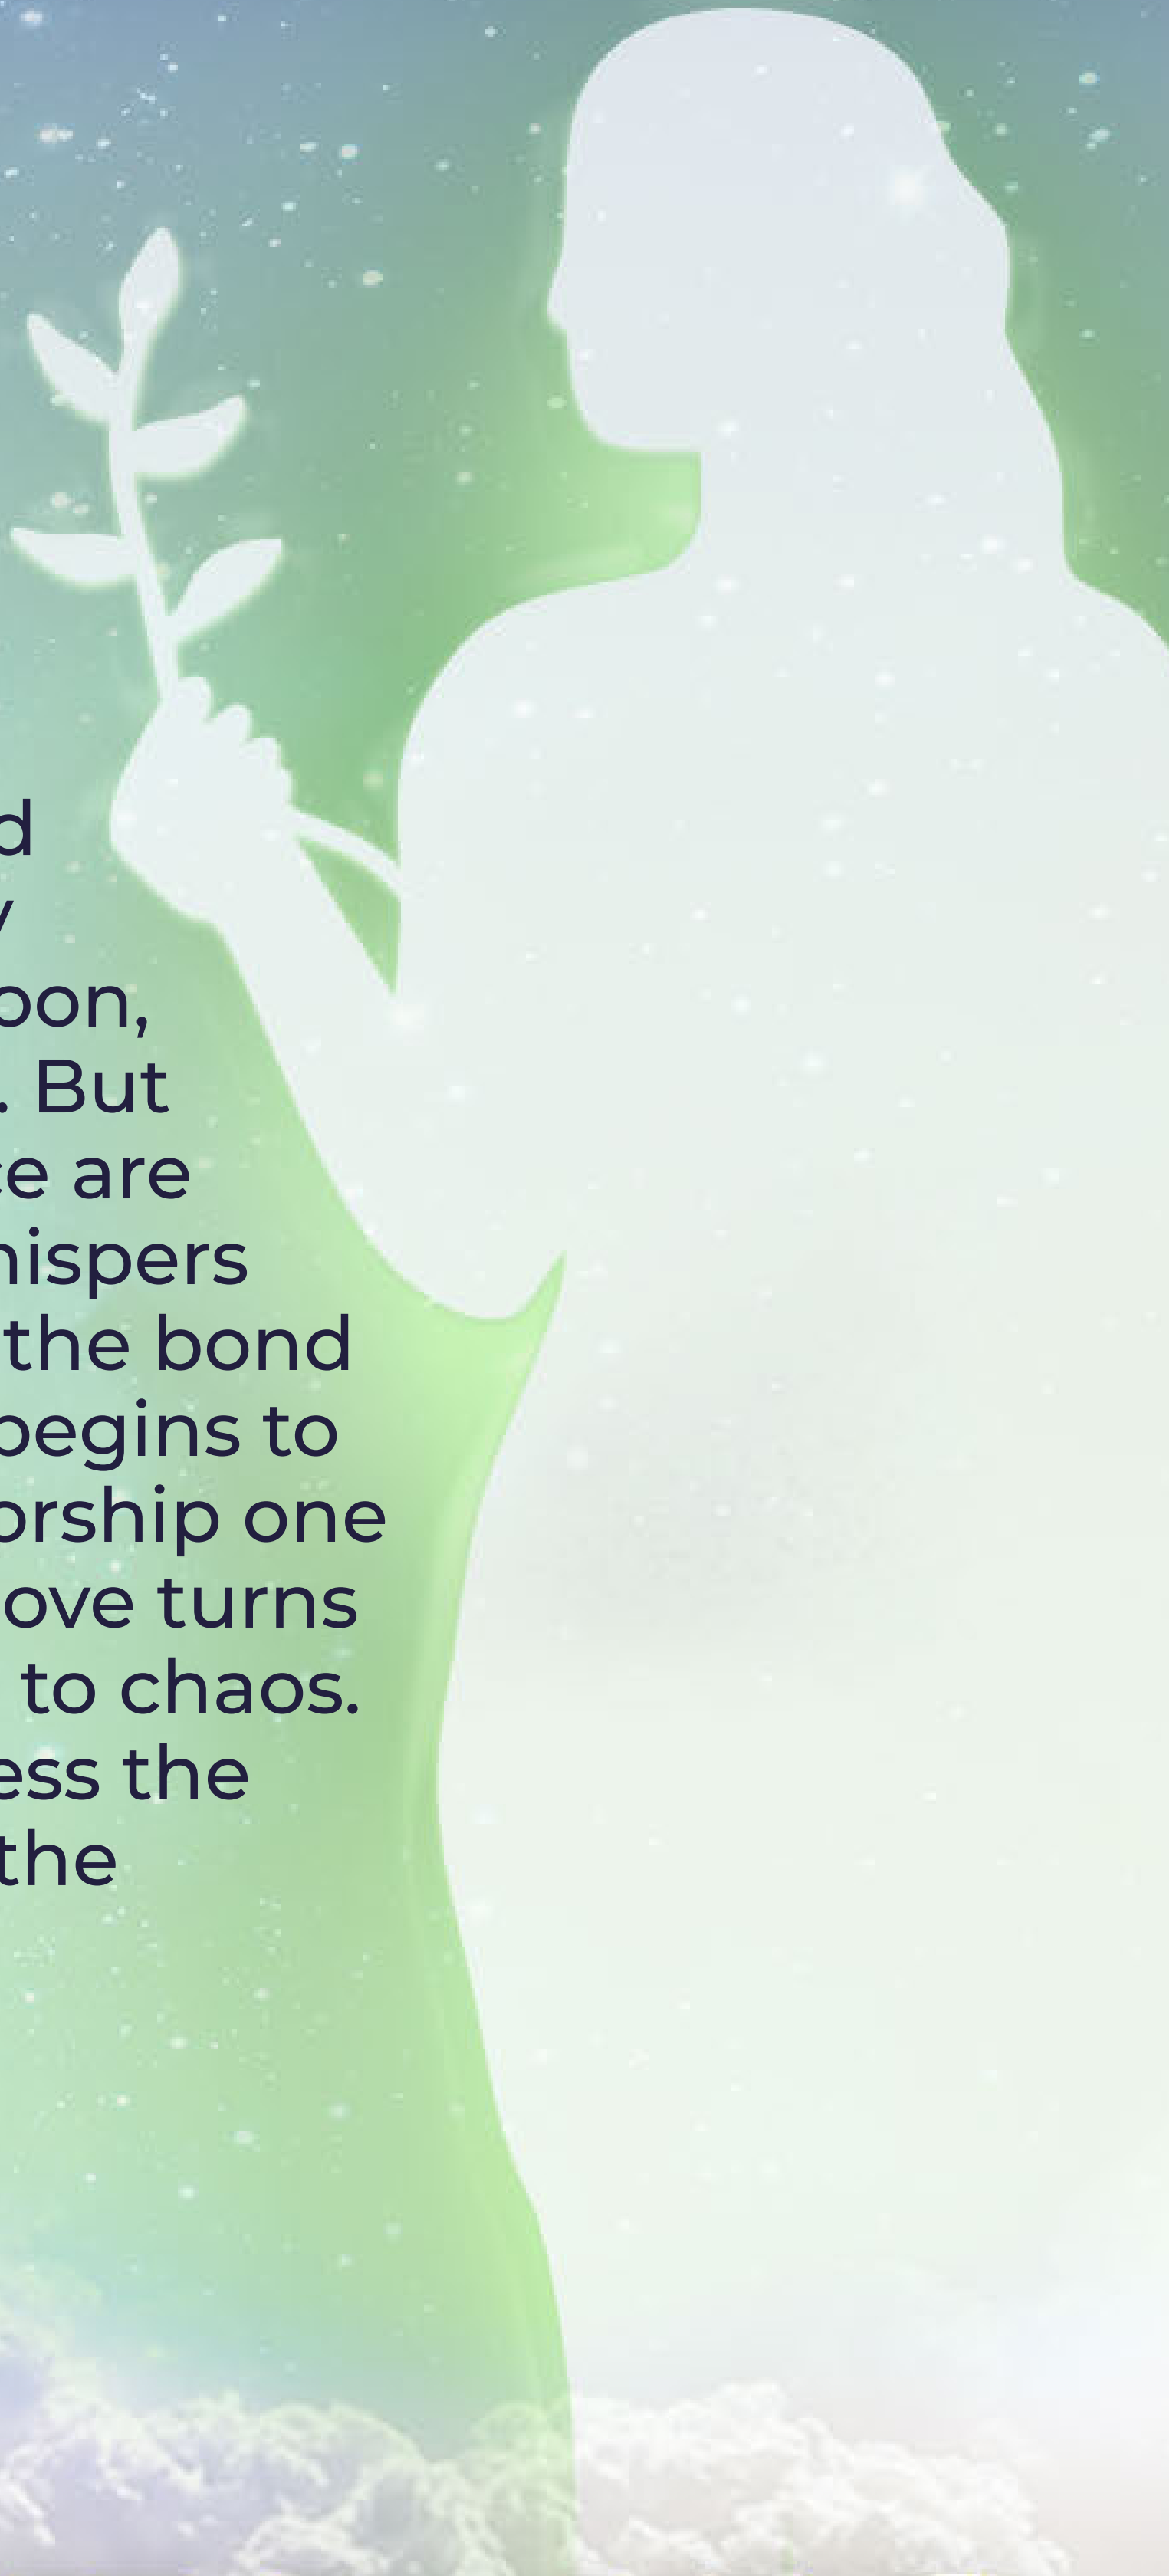

EROS

7TH B

Eros, the god of love and passion, has always ensured that every couple he sets his eyes on experiences the unspeakable feeling of love. For those who have never felt it, he shoots a golden arrow; for those destined to fall apart, he strikes with a lead one. But when Apollo crosses his path and challenges him to experience his own powers, Eros accepts the idea without realizing that it will become the worst decision of his life. Now, his only solution is to tear away his own light in order to win the war, even if it means losing the very essence that makes him who he is.

In the olden times, harmony ruled between two divine siblings. Apollo, god of the sun, and Artemis, the ethereal goddess of the moon and nature. Together, they painted the world in perfect rhythm: day and night, sun and moon, complete equilibrium. But perfection and balance are fragile. When envy whispers through the heavens, the bond that shaped creation begins to unravel. As mortals worship one more than the other, love turns to rivalry, and balance to chaos. Are you ready to witness the eclipse that changed the heavens forever?

ARTEMIS

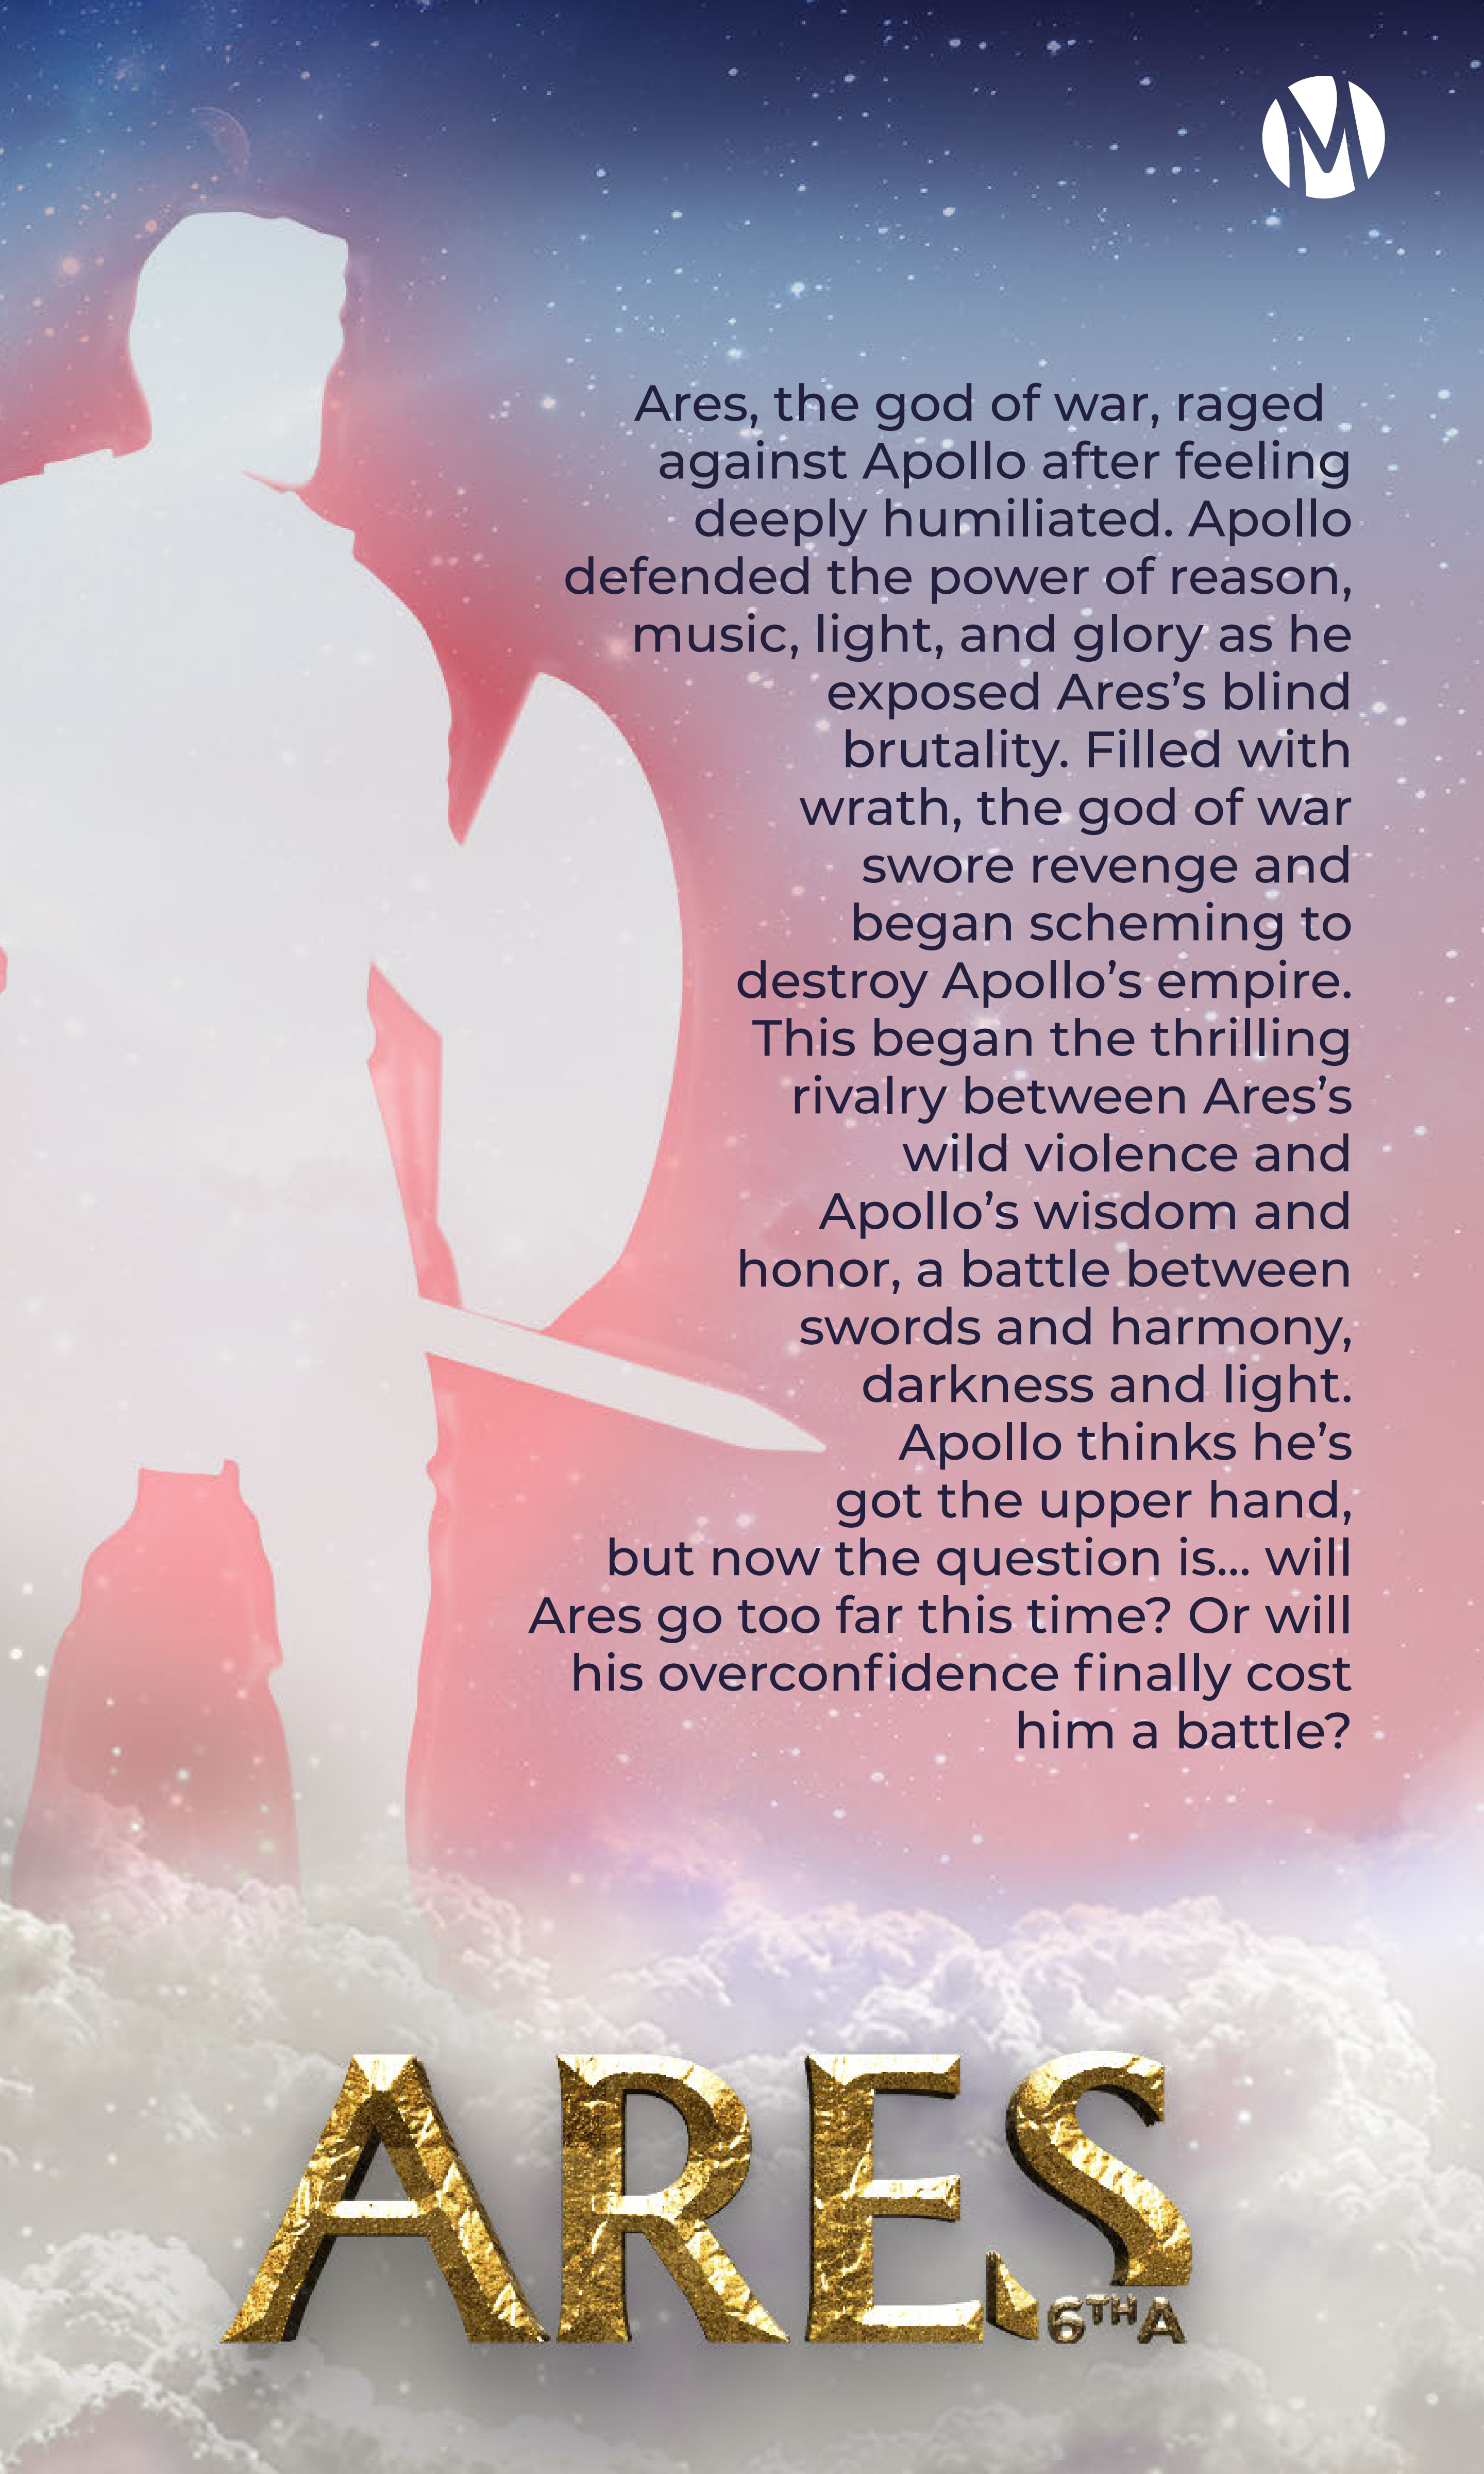

10THB

Bound by guilt and divine law, Poseidon, god of the sea, faces the consequences of his forbidden love with the mortal Aethra. When their son Theseus uncovers the truth, the past resurfaces, and Apollo uses Poseidon's secret to keep him under control. Desperate for freedom, Poseidon meets Khallidra, a mysterious siren who offers him a mirror with the power to change his fate, at a dangerous price. As he dares to challenge Apollo and reclaim his power, Poseidon discovers that breaking his chains might awaken an even darker force waiting beneath the waves.

POSEIDON

19THC

Ares, the god of war, raged against Apollo after feeling deeply humiliated. Apollo defended the power of reason, music, light, and glory as he exposed Ares's blind brutality. Filled with wrath, the god of war swore revenge and began scheming to destroy Apollo's empire. This began the thrilling rivalry between Ares's wild violence and Apollo's wisdom and honor, a battle between swords and harmony, darkness and light. Apollo thinks he's got the upper hand, but now the question is... will Ares go too far this time? Or will his overconfidence finally cost him a battle?

ARES

6TH A

APHRODITE

8THC

On the dazzling heights of Mount Olympus, Aphrodite, goddess of love and beauty, has always been adored—until she meets Apollo, the radiant god of light. For the first time, her charms fail to conquer a heart, for Apollo's love belongs to Pandora, whose purity outshines divine perfection.

Wounded by rejection, Aphrodite's desire turns into obsession, and her reflection begins to fade. As she plots to win Apollo at any cost, beauty gives way to vengeance, and the goddess must confront her own undoing.

A timeless tale of love, envy, and the haunting price of pride, brought to life in a breathtaking performance where myth meets emotion.

EMPOWERED
MINDS, COMPASSIONATE
HEARTS

ECHOES OF THE PROPHECY

SONG & DANCE CONTEST 25-26